The National Foundation for Celiac Awareness

hosts the

Second Annual San Francisco Gluten-Free Cooking Spree

The National Foundation for Celiac Awareness invites you to the San Francisco Gluten-Free Cooking Spree. The Gluten-Free Cooking Spree is an event that joins together the medical and lifestyle aspects of celiac disease to educate both doctors and chefs about celiac disease and the gluten-free diet.

Friday, October 30, 2009
6:30pm-9:00pm

Treasure Island
Building 1 (Administration Building)
San Francisco, CA

'middle' of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge

Honoree: Dr. Chaitan Khosla, Stanford University

Enjoy hearty gluten-free hors d'oeuvres, desserts, wine, beer and other beverages

Here's how it works:

- * Top chefs, doctors and reporters will be put on to teams of three. Each team will have one chef, one doctor and one member of the media. Together, the doctor, chef and media representatives will work to create the best gluten-free meal.
- * Attendees will sample the food cooked by the chefs and enjoy a large assortment of other gluten-free food options. Come hungry!
- * All attendees will take home a fabulous goodie bag filled with treats from a variety of gluten-free vendors.
- * A three-person expert panel will judge recipes.

General Admission: $50

At the Door: $75

Children (12 and under) and Students: $35
